The minutes were approved as distributed withinor correction to Rainer's statement (on page 11).

C. Adoption of Agenda

The agenda was adopted with two additionannouncement items (the Faculty Forum hosted by FDAI, and the Department Chair Time), and the order of iscussion items was modified by moving the Academic Mastelan discussion topic to follow item A.

- II Status of Chancellor's Office Actions
 - A. Motions Approved: None
 - B. Motions Pending: None

III Public Comments

Dana Thomas announced two items:

- 1. Implementation of the writing sample requirement for English placement a copy of the plan will be posted electronically by Jayne. Dana shared some comments about the spreadsheet comment of the plan. New to the process are reading placement scores that are now required, rather than only recommended as in the past. It's important to read estatements included in the footnotes to the tables. They include critical details about widest scores are used for placement purposes. Dana invites feedback.
- 2. First year freshman seminars a dsafficitation for faculty to propose first-year freshman seminars will be circulated. Supplental pay is available to faculty in the amount of $1,000 for class preparation $2,000 for each time the course is offered (with at least 12 students enrolle Faculty are encouraged to submit proposals. Dana is working on the possibility of having these seminars offered free to students, without tuon or fee costs for next lfalt's possible that these seminars will be required for students until future Core requirements, so they want to try these out this never and see what works.

IV A. President's Comments – Jonathan Dehn

Jon mentioned that he completed mediation tragitalist was offered to faculty and staff, and he gained very useful tools. He reproper ended this worthwhile aining to everyone.

He mentioned the meetings that had taken plances the last senate meeting: the Board of Regents meeting, the Faculty Alliance meetingere they submitted a motion to the Systemwide Academic Council, and the meeting of BOR presidential search committee. He'll report on these later today's meeting.

and Stanford. The ranking also included wehindstitutions like the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOA), which ranks fifth in specializing on climate change.

VI Governance Reports

A. Staff Council - Martin Klein

A Staff Council report was not available on mentioned the Leave Share Resolution, and that Martin had mentioned that Council would support it, as well.

B. ASUAF – Todd Vorisek for Adrian Triebel

Erin Trochim read a statement submitteed Todd Vorisek, endorsing Jon D. regarding extending his term as president.

To the UAF Faculty Senate,

I understand that the chair of Faculty Senate will be back up for election at the upcoming March 5th meeting. I am serving as the president of the student body for this semester, and was vice-president of the student body last semester, and as the President of the Associated Students of University of Alaska Fairbanks, I am proud torologh my full support behind reelecting Jonathan Dehn as the chair of Faculty Senate. Jon has been an enthusiastic supporter of issues relevant to storted or as long as I've known him, and has always given us a careful ear when asked. He has served as a voice for students when I or my peers were unavailable, and has been one of the most reliable persons for alerting us to issues of concern. In all of our recent lobbying efforts to the Board of Regents (Successful or otherwise) Jon has provided terrific guidance and a strong point of view to our delegates. I can think of no one else I or my predecessor, as well as our constituents, would be better able to serve with in this capacity.

Thank you for your time, ASUAF President Todd Vorisek

C. UAFT/UNAC

Jane Weber said there was no news on UART. DI briefly commented that he spoke with the UNAC rep earlier in the wkewho said that the ORP litition is ongoing. More will be reported about that when it develops.

VII Guest Speaker: Erin Trochim

Topic: Organizing the graduatedents, and plans for an orientation.

Erin introduced two other gduate students accompanying, Mel Durrett (Biology and Wildlife) and John Mumm (Hydrology). The Graduate Student Committee is a subcommittee of ASUAF, and the jurpose is to provide a vote for all of the current and incoming graduate students. They recognized there was a graduate student council that's collapsed due to lack of interest, and they took that into account when they started their effort.

Last October, Erin organized a group of 14 UAF graduate students to attend the Northern Students Conference at Whitehors to presearch students sented at the conference, and it was an overall good experience, especiallying to know others and learn about their work. There are 1,500 grad students hetelet who do a large sceptor research, and it would be interesting to get these students together for a similar type of function. Erin started here in 2006 and got her master's here. She's working on her Ph.D. From her experience, it took a long time to get oriented here as a newlest, to meet the falty and learn about the campus. If there were a graduate student student erence at the start of the academic year, it would foster networking, collaboration and ordinary researc. It would ease the process of learning about campus and working faithulty and administrators. This past fall there were 250 new graduate students. By holdin annual conference, in three years' time over half the graduate students would never kitched been any different. It will become the norm.

Being an alumna herself, Erin will care wlgataduate students are doing here even five years from now. Another advantage of a yearth ference would be the opportunity for the alumni to connect with the graduate student student and grad students can mentor each other.

Her advisor shared how he learned a third/hofat he knew by what he figured out, a third from what his faculty told him and a third/hofat other graduate students. An annual conference would bring all three-airs together. Others she has writh are very supportive. They're taking the full proposal to Provost's Coulmext week. The next task is to get organized and work with faculty. Erin share-dir things that all faulty could do to support this effort: 1.) encourage their graduate-distributes to submit abstracts and support their new grad students in attending; 2.) help the totalseir academic program -- all departments are invited participate and can help with editing abouts; 3.) register for conference; and 4.) provide feedback aftethe conference so they can grand improve. A schedule is on the back of the handout.

Flyer is now posted on the Meeting web page for Faculty Senate at: http://www.uaf.edu/uafgov/faculty/09-10_senate_meetings/165/Grad-Student-Conference-Flyer.pdf

After a short question and answer time, Emircouraged faculty in all departments to encourage their graduate students to be involved. The Graduate Student Committee posts information and meeting minutes at: http://www.gsc-asuaf.com

[The break was postponed until after announcements.]
